Dear Sir:

If you have not as yet placed your contract order for Sweet and Field Corn and Vine Seed, we wish to advise it will be to your advantage to place your order by very first possible mail.

The farmers in nearly all sections of the country are reducing their acreage to a large extent in the way of seed crops and are figuring on putting in ordinary grain, such as oats and other small grains, which require less labor and less expense.

It is necessary for us to know what acreage we must place to supply our contract orders and to do so we must receive your order in the very near future. If, therefore, you have not placed your contract order will you kindly send us a memorandum of your requirements and on receipt of same we will make you special prices for good sized quantities.

Trusting you will give this your immediate attention so we can place our acreage with the best growers, we remain,

Yours truly,
